

COMPANY PROFILE

Soliflo

The Soliflo name has been synonymous with highly specialised bulk liquid control, tanker loading and offloading (road, rail and marine) systems and services throughout Southern Africa since 1984.

Under its current ownership and management since 2003, the company has forged strong ties with leading local and international equipment manufacturers, suppliers and engineering companies, and is well equipped to provide a diverse number of industry sectors with an extensive, top-quality range of products and services.

Soliflo's product portfolio includes tank truck equipment, tanker grounding and earthing devices, pumps, instrumentation and flow-control equipment, vapour recovery and gas combustion systems, as well as integrated systems. The company's comprehensive range of related equipment includes industrial hoses and assemblies, dry break couplings and adaptors, as well as breakaway and emergency release couplings.

Recognising the inherent danger of personnel falling from tankers at bulk-loading and offloading facilities, Soliflo has also developed a comprehensive range of tanker access, fall-prevention and safety systems to avoid potential operator injuries and fatalities.

In addition to servicing Southern African Development Community countries, Soliflo's objective to expand its footprint within Africa has led to the formation of Industrial Flow Systems, in Mozambique, in 2013, and Soliflo International, in Kenya, in mid-2017.

Strategically positioned, these satellite sales, service and support operations have given Soliflo added impetus and ease of access to key markets throughout Africa.

Headquartered at Laser Park, west of Johannesburg, Soliflo is ISO 9001:2008 and ISO/TS 29001:2010 quality management-certified, as well as broad-based black economic empowerment Level 2-accredited. "Soliflo has proven that it has the products and skills sets required to meet and exceed the specific requirements of the industries and companies we serve," states the company.
